WTC COMMUNITY WEEKLY

Staying Productive

A little over a year into what is now known as the 'New Normal' and here we are, still adapting to a new way of working: Work from Home (WFH).

While it is not entirely new nor applicable to all sectors, the WFH scheme does have its pros and cons. Both companies and employees are constantly challenged to be encouraging and productive while working remotely. This then leads to a tricky question: how do we do it?

Tomorrow, Jakarta Land will hold its first of many virtual tenants' discussions on this particular subject. Slots have been fully booked but you can read the summary later on Insight.

Get involved!

Join WTC's tenants' discussions and other community-centred activities by making sure you don't miss out on the invitations.
