T.G.I.F!

Do you feel different on Fridays?

I do.

It's like there is a genuine air of lightness on this particular day. Perhaps it's because it's so close to the weekend, perhaps because it symbolizes an end to long working days and a start to exciting adventures ahead, perhaps because the hours feel somehow shorter.

Even if you're wildly in love with your job, the weekend provides a respite, a time to recharge so you can get back to your passion on Monday.

Well, tomorrow, let us enhance that Friday Feeling with a couple of exciting new events.

First up, we have our first WTC Secretaries Gathering at 11 AM which is supported by Animo Bakery (dessert on a Friday? Yes please!) and Serene Reflexology (a massage after a long week is always warranted).

Then, serenading you into the weekend, is the first acoustic event Tune In @ WTC at WTC 1 Plaza starting at 4 PM. You're more than welcome to sit on the benches around the fountain, sing along to the music and just enjoy yourself.

Now that your Friday's all set, time to mark your calendar, set your reminders and see you Friday!
