Happy Easter!

This weekend, Christians around the world will celebrate Easter.

Despite its significance as a Christian holy day where Jesus resurrects from death, many of the traditions and symbols actually have roots in pagan celebrations—particularly the pagan goddess Eostre—and in the Jewish holiday of Passover.

Building up to Easter is a period of fasting and penitence called Lent, beginning on Ash Wednesday and lasts for 40 days. This is followed by Palm Sunday, which marks the start of Holy Week - consisting of Maundy Thursday (the Last Supper), Good Friday and Easter Sunday.

Today, Easter is partly remembered for the egg hunts and Easter Bunny. Children would also decorate hard boiled eggs, a tradition which dates back to the 13th century.

As Easter is meant to be a symbol of hope, renewal and new life, we wish you a joyous and peaceful Easter.

Yours truly,
