WTC COMMUNITY WEEKLY

WTC Photography Community

A photograph is a mean to preserve a memory. When we look through old photos, we are reminded of those moments, whether good or bad. It's a bittersweet feeling.

But photography can be a fun hobby to pick up and a very popular art form to get into. It allows you to capture an image of the world around you, showing others your particular point of view. Through a creative use of lighting, angles, framing, props, and scenery, you can turn everyday imagery into a unique artistic statement.

We are all photographers, in a sense. We take photos on a daily basis, whether it's of ourselves, the scenery, our food, our families, random things. Anything that is worthy or at the very least, Instagrammable.

When it comes to a photo, you are either in front of the lens or behind it. And if you're a bit of both, why don't join WTC Photography community?

We'll have an exciting competition coming up soon exclusively for WTC tenants so make sure you join in to get the latest scoop.

Happy snapping, shutter bugs!

Yours truly,
the community editor
