

INSIGHT

WTC COMMUNITY WEEKLY

Pray for Semeru

The Indonesian Red Cross Jakarta is accepting donations for victims of Mt. Semeru eruption, head to donasi.pmidkijakarta.or.id

Antaraneews.com

Extreme Weather

These past few days, we experienced pouring rain and strong winds in many parts of the country. While it was a welcome break from the usually hot and humid days, it still sparks concerns.

The Meteorology, Climatology, and Geophysics Agency or BMKG has recently revealed its predictions of extreme weather from the end of this year to early 2022, including a potential for a tsunami of up to eight meters in Cilegon or tourist areas in the Sunda Strait.

Just last Saturday, Mt. Semeru in East Java erupted, a sudden devastating move which was triggered by heavy rain. Rescue mission is still ongoing.

So stay vigilant, stay alert, stay safe.

Yours trully,
the community editor