Securing Your Digital Transaction

I don't think it's an exaggeration when you say you cannot live without your smartphone.

These days, when you leave the house, the very first thing you make sure to bring is your phone. You need it to make calls, to socialise, to order transportation, to pay bills, all these different functions within a single device.

So to better secure your digital transaction, remember these following tips:

- Look for good signal reception
- Update the apps
- Double check the amount and numbers before making any payment and top-ups
- Activate two-way authentication
- Never ever give away your OTP code to anyone

Yours trully,
