

INSIGHT

WTC COMMUNITY WEEKLY

The festive season is upon us, the most anticipated time of the year where friends and families gather together to spend heart-warming moments, sharing joy and laughter with one another over sumptuous feasts.

Weird and Wonderful Christmas Food around the World

Christmas is one of the most significant and favorite holidays in the world. People associate it with coziness, a decorated Christmas tree, festive lights, and a delicious dinner with their families.

Each country has its own traditions; some cook dessert a month before Christmas Eve for it to become ready, some start choosing the ideal fish and turkey, and others plan time for a trip to a fast-food restaurant. Here are some that (might seem) weird and wonderful:

- Christmas Eve Apples – China
- Selyodka Pod Shuboy – Russia
- Christmas Pudding – England
- Smalahove – Norway
- Mattak and Kiviak – Greenland
- Mopane Worms – Southern Africa
- Feast of the Seven Fishes – Italy/America

Despite all the differences in its celebration, Christmas gives people positive emotions and the belief that the upcoming year will bring only joy and happiness. Of course the tasty food and special atmosphere contribute to a positive mood too.

We wish you a very merry Christmas, happy Hanukkah and happy holidays!

Yours trully,
the community editor